

Name: _____

Annotation Bookmark

While reading, annotate your text with the symbols below:

 Use a star if something you read seems interesting.

 Use one question mark if something you read raises a question in your mind.

 Use two question marks if something you read seems confusing.

 Use a plus sign when you have a connection to something you're reading.

 Use a spiral when you think of a prediction to make about what you're reading.

✓ Use a check mark when what you're reading confirms the prediction you made.

✗ Use an X when what you're reading contradicts the prediction you made.

! use an exclamation point when what you're reading seems important.
(Hint: information you might need later.)

Build vocabulary by boxing all words that:

Get repeated
Seem important or
Are unknown.

Name: _____

Annotation Bookmark

While reading, annotate your text with the symbols below:

 Use a star if something you read seems interesting.

 Use one question mark if something you read raises a question in your mind.

 Use two question marks if something you read seems confusing.

 Use a plus sign when you have a connection to something you're reading.

 Use a spiral when you think of a prediction to make about what you're reading.

✓ Use a check mark when what you're reading confirms the prediction you made.

✗ Use an X when what you're reading contradicts the prediction you made.

! use an exclamation point when what you're reading seems important.
(Hint: information you might need later.)

Build vocabulary by boxing all words that:

Get repeated
Seem important or
Are unknown.

Name: _____

Annotation Bookmark

While reading, annotate your text with the symbols below:

 Use a star if something you read seems interesting.

 Use one question mark if something you read raises a question in your mind.

 Use two question marks if something you read seems confusing.

 Use a plus sign when you have a connection to something you're reading.

 Use a spiral when you think of a prediction to make about what you're reading.

✓ Use a check mark when what you're reading confirms the prediction you made.

✗ Use an X when what you're reading contradicts the prediction you made.

! use an exclamation point when what you're reading seems important.
(Hint: information you might need later.)

Build vocabulary by boxing all words that:

Get repeated
Seem important or
Are unknown.